and Emergency Management

Welcome!

The 2015 West Virginia Local Emergency Planning Committee and State Emergency Response Commission (LEPC/SERC) Conference will be held October 13th-15th, 2015 at Camp Dawson Conference Center in Terra Alta, WV.

Attendees at the conference will consist of Public Officials, Emergency Management, LEPC members, Law Enforcement, Health, Fire, Environmental, Federal, Business and Volunteer Agencies. We invite you to join us at Camp Dawson for the opportunity to meet and network with key emergency response, planning and training personnel in West Virginia. This conference will provide industry representatives with the opportunity to showcase their latest products and technologies.

Why Exhibit at the SERC Conference?

- Establish new and renew old emergency customer needs
- Qualify future and current buyers, meet prospects face to face and preview your latest product advancements and services
- Utilize customer feedback to identify new applications for existing products and services
- Demonstrate product applications and benefits
- Introduce, test and market new products and services
- Stimulate sales for new and existing products and services
- Reach potential buyers who would otherwise be unknown to your company
- Broaden your exposure and contacts while increasing your organization's viability in the disaster management industry
